EDUCATION & CHARITABLE OBJECTIVES

The Lincolnshire
Agricultural Society's Education objective:

To promote food, farming and the countryside in an environmentally sustainable way.

Our aim is to:

Educate future generations on the importance of farming, food production and the countryside and to provide careers advice to attract new entrants into agriculture and its allied trades.

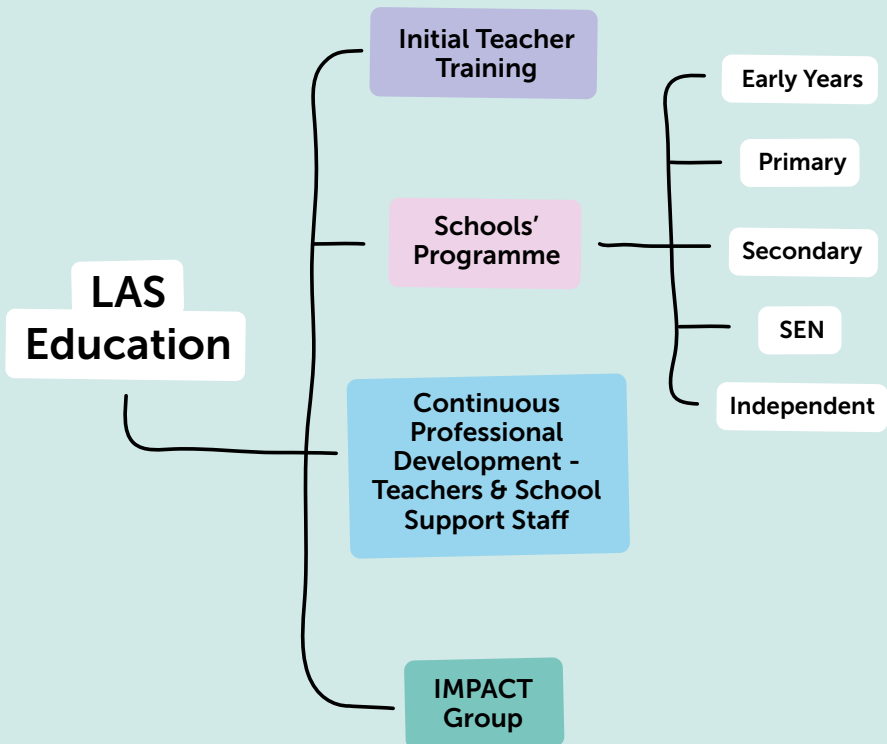

This is achieved by:

Providing a year-round education programme that delivers unique hands-on learning experiences for young people and the teachers that influence them.

FORWARD-THINKING APPROACH TO EDUCATION

As a charity organisation we are recognised county-wide as providing a progressive, influential and highly regarded Education programme that is inclusive of all.

Our provision will continue to grow year on year, as we endeavour that all young people are given the opportunity to develop their knowledge and understanding of farming, food production and the countryside.

THE LINCOLNSHIRE SHOW

Experience Lincolnshire's biggest celebration of food, farming and rural life at the prestigious Lincolnshire Show. Each year around 6,000 school students visit for an educational, fun and action-packed day, extending their learning outside of the classroom.

The cross-curricular educational opportunities on offer around the Show are endless.

The Education Zone offers free hands-on interactive learning opportunities and experiences. School groups can participate in a livestock tour led by a farmer steward who guides the group around different breeds of cattle, sheep and pig. The Meet-a-Moo marquee is a hive of discovery and learning is focused on different breeds of cattle with interactive displays on the story of milk and meat production.

I would firstly like to say what a fantastic time the children had at the Lincolnshire Show this year. The children came away from the show with lots of information and questions for further learning. It was a great day from start to finish.

Kelsey Primary School

Secondary students will have the opportunity to engage with potential employers and industry specialists on the careers trail around the Lincolnshire Show, where curriculum learning will be linked back to careers (Gatsby Benchmark). Students can also explore further study prospects on the stands of numerous colleges and universities that attend the Show.

Schools' Challenge

The Lincolnshire Show Schools' Challenge is open to all schools in Greater Lincolnshire and surrounding areas.

There are 10 challenges to choose from with a fun and fabulous opportunity to learn about food, farming, the local community, the environment and sustainability.

The challenges are student led and encourage them to research, explore and take ownership of their learning. Each participating school is matched with a mentor to support with the project and be an experienced sounding board. Guidance is provided every step of the way with a planned networking meeting and twilight support sessions.

Thanks for having such a wonderfully arranged event that really enables students to engage in current relevant topics and be given the opportunity to develop lots of important skills for their future. As a teacher I was absolutely beaming with pride watching my pupils take part in the challenge. Events like this really make the job worth it.

Boston Grammar School

Schools attend the Lincolnshire Show to present their work and showcase their understanding. By engaging with the public and presenting to a panel of judges, students build their self-confidence, develop their skills and cement their knowledge.

The competition comes to an exciting conclusion as schools compete to become Schools' Challenge Champion.

TEACHER CPD

Our continuing professional development day at the Lincolnshire Show equips teachers, school leaders and support staff with the confidence, knowledge and resources to deliver powerful learning experiences based around food, farming and outdoor learning.

Delivered by high-quality and passionate business professionals, each session is designed to inspire, offering practical activities and support ideas for curriculum links and resources.

As the education programme grows, new opportunities will arise including bespoke training and free of charge resources for teachers and school support staff as they embed food and farming learning into their curriculum. The expected impact will be an increased confidence of teachers to deliver purposeful agricultural and food related learning.

The network meeting was very thought provoking and helped with ideas. We came away with lots of inspiration!

INITIAL TEACHER TRAINING

Our work both at the Lincolnshire Show and throughout the year, equips trainee teachers with the skills, knowledge and inspiration to incorporate farming, food production, the countryside and environment into the curriculum, both in the classroom and when learning in the great outdoors.

I will take this knowledge into schools on placement and begin to bridge the gap between farm and fork.

Trainee Teacher

By igniting an interest in learning about food, farming and the countryside this training highlights the importance, relevance and clearly identifiable links within all curriculum subjects. The initial teacher training is offered to both teaching providers and teaching schools across Greater Lincolnshire.

This exciting initiative of taking tractors into schools across Greater Lincolnshire, is organised in partnership with NFU East Midlands and Lincolnshire Young Farmers Clubs.

We partner farmers up with their local schools to share their story and enlighten students of what agriculture is all about, developing their understanding of the important role farmers have in bringing food to our tables.

The initiative builds closer links between young people and the farming community to encourage the future workforces to join an exciting and rewarding career within the agricultural industry.

Our three previous campaigns have been very successful:

- ★ 7,800 students took part in Tractors into Schools
- ★ 238 farmers were involved in the project
- ★ We visited 143 Schools

Tractors into Schools is a fantastic, hands-on learning opportunity for children of all ages. In our school it provided key stage 1 children with an exciting hook for writing and we were able to link the tractor visit into school with many areas of our curriculum. The children loved questioning the farmers about the use of the tractor and life on a working farm. Overall, it is a super, real-life experience.

AGRI-FOODS CAREERS EVENT

Agriculture is one of the most dynamic, high-tech and professional sectors within the economy, and not surprisingly more and more young people are considering a career within this industry.

In the next 10 years, the agricultural industry will need 50,000 workers to be able to provide Britain's population with food.

Our Agri-Food Careers event showcases the multitude of jobs available through interactive workshops; exhibitor stands from across the agricultural and ancillary fields; and inspirational talks all designed to give students information on the career opportunities available and routes within the agri-food sector.

The Education team attend secondary school career fairs on request.

KS2

Lincolnshire Day is all about celebrating what's great about our county, from Lincolnshire's traditions, history, culture and business.

Students take part in a carefully timetabled day, working in small groups across a selection of unique hands-on learning workshops led by local businesses.

The students get a wonderful insight into different local businesses and gain knowledge and skills in various areas of employment. The event sees hundreds of primary students visit the Lincolnshire Showground for an action-packed day related to Lincolnshire's food, farming, aviation, heritage, sport and lots more! Due to popular demand the event now takes place over two days.

FARMHOUSE BREAKFAST WEEK

A class of students are invited for a morning programme of interactive workshops and cookery sessions.

Students have the opportunity to get hands on with lots of fun, farm-to-fork interactive activities focused on the most important meal of the day – breakfast!

Students work in small groups rotating around activities in developing their cooking skills and understanding the importance of a healthy breakfast. They also carry out a farming story activity understanding where their breakfast produce comes from, reconnecting young people with food and farming.
